

Press Release

EJL Wireless Research Comments on Alcatel-Lucent Q4 2007 Wireless Business Segment Results

Wireless initiatives in WCDMA and GSM taking hold but execution remains key in 2008

Redwood City, CA, February 12, 2008: "The recent announcement by Alcatel-Lucent regarding its record revenues for GSM in Q4, coupled with a rebound in overall wireless revenues for the company may be an indication that the merger hasn't killed their competitiveness," says EJL Wireless Research founder and President, Earl Lum.

"Our BTS contract analysis for 2007 certainly supports strong year over year growth for wireless infrastructure contract wins in for WCDMA and GSM technology for Alcatel-Lucent," says Lum. A complete analysis of all of the OEM contracts awarded in 2007 is available in the report titled "Global Base Station Contract Analysis, 2007, 2nd Edition."

"Alcatel-Lucent will need to execute on each of its growth initiatives in 2008 to stay competitive with wireless leaders Ericsson, Nokia Siemens Networks and Huawei Technologies," says Lum.

About EJL Wireless Research

EJL Wireless Research provides proprietary, accurate and cutting-edge market analysis and consulting services on the wireless technology ecosystem. The firm focuses its research on all vertical elements of the wireless ecosystem including mobile subscribers, mobile operators, mobile handsets, mobile infrastructure and mobile content. In addition, the firm provides analysis across horizontal technology suppliers including RF semiconductor materials, RF semiconductor/components, subsystems and OEMs. Our goal is to provide our clients with mission critical market analysis and information.

EJL Wireless Research is managed by Earl Lum. Mr. Lum has 15 years of experience within the wireless industry including 8 years as an Equity Research Analyst on Wall Street covering the global wireless industry. The company is headquartered in Redwood City, CA. For more information about EJL Wireless Research, please visit the company's website at www.ejlwireless.com.